ABOUT THESE GUIDELINES

These guidelines support Intelect's Privacy Standard and adopt its definitions.

The guidelines are intended to ensure that Intelect processes personal data in the form of employment records in accordance with the personal data protection principles, in particular that:

- Personal data must be collected only for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes. It must not be further processed in any manner incompatible with those purposes.
- Personal data must be adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which it is processed. When personal data is no longer needed for specified purposes, it is deleted or anonymised as provided by these guidelines.
- Personal data must be accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date. It must be corrected or deleted without delay when inaccurate.
- Personal Data must not be kept in an identifiable form for longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the data is processed.
- Personal Data must be secured by appropriate technical and organisational measures against unauthorised or unlawful processing, and against accidental loss, destruction or damage.

The Data Protection Officer (DPO) is responsible for overseeing these guidelines. Any questions about the operation of the guidelines should be submitted to [the DPO OR [DESIGNATION]].

LOCATION OF EMPLOYMENT RECORDS

Intelect's HR department holds employment records and can be contacted with any enquiries relating to your personal data.

KEEPING INFORMATION UP TO DATE

Intelect needs to ensure that your personal details are up to date and accurate.

When you first start working for Intelect we record your name, address, next of kin and contact telephone details. In the event that any of these change, you should inform the HR department.

You will be invited to review and update personal information on a regular basis.

These provisions are intended to complement the data subject rights referred to in the Privacy Standard.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES ON RETENTION AND ERASURE

Intelect's approach to retaining employment records is to ensure that it complies with the data protection principles referred to in these guidelines and, in particular, to ensure that:

- Employment records are regularly reviewed to ensure that they remain adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary to facilitate you working for Intelect
- Employment records are kept secure and are protected against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage. Where appropriate Intelect uses anonymization to prevent identification of individuals.
- When records are destroyed, whether held as paper records or in electronic format, Intelect will ensure that they are safely and permanently erased.

RETENTION AND ERASURE OF RECRUITMENT DOCUMENTS

Intelect retains personal information following recruitment exercises to demonstrate, if required, that candidates have not been discriminated against on prohibited grounds and that recruitment exercises are conducted in a fair and transparent way.

Intelect's candidate privacy notice advises candidates how long Intelect expects to keep their personal information for, once a recruitment decision has been communicated to them. This is likely to be for six months from the communication of the outcome of the recruitment exercise which takes account of both the time limit to bring claims and for claims to be received by Intelect.

Information relating to successful candidates will be transferred to their employment record with Intelect. This will be limited to that information necessary for the working relationship and, where applicable, that required by law.

Following a recruitment exercise information, in both paper and electronic form, will be held by the HR department. Destruction of that information will take place in accordance with these guidelines.

RETENTION AND ERASURE OF EMPLOYMENT RECORDS

Intelect has regard to recommended retention periods for particular employment records set out in legislation, referred to in the table below.
